Hi Florian,

The whole of Fiji was under the GPL, so that'd be the default license.
In any case: to whom it may concern, I release this inkscape SVG file (<https://github.com/fiji/fiji-historical/commit/f51b03301b9c05fdcf65ebf92d1061085141a501>) as public domain. Print as many as you like.

See you soon,

Albert

Hi Albert,

look what we have found today: <https://github.com/fiji/fiji-historical/commit/f51b03301b9c05fdcf65ebf92d1061085141a501>

While making some Fiji pins for I2K we started asking ourselves if we are even legally allowed to use the Fiji logo for e.g. shirts etc.
We do not expect that anyone would sue us, but it would be desirable to have some commons license or such attached to the Fiji logo so that people know what they can and can't do with it. (See for example also <https://forum.image.sc/t/license-usage-of-the-fiji-logo/20357>)

Since the first link from above seems to indicate that you created the Fiji logo I thought I drop you a line and ask you 2 things:
1) Can we make T-shirt designs using the Fiji logo, add these shirts to a shop, and offer a link at I2K so people can other them if they want?
2) What is your opinion about the right license for the wonderful Fiji logo we have?

Thanks for your answer,
Best,
Florian
